TELEGRAPHIC.

WINNIPEG, September 12.

Bishop Armstrong, of Toronto, is dead.
Mercier's estates are offered for sale in Montreal.

Irish crops have been ruined by continued rains.

The rebel general Crespo is triumphant in Venezuela.

Blake has been denounced at an anti home rule meeting in Toronto.

The schooner "Cashier" has foundered near Halifax and nineteen perished.

Senator Girard is dying at St. Boniface. There is no hope of his recovery.

Geo. Grant, a Chicago millionaire, was drowned in Lake Minnetonka while fishing.

A tornado in Indiana and Wisconsin did great damage to crops and property.

Jas. Ross is en route to Calgary to inspect the Macleod branch of the C. & E railway.

Among 1,000 arrivals at Winnipeg, from Ontario, 28 were for Edmonton and 55 for Red Deer.

Rumored that R. S. White will retire from Cardwell to give place to Meredith for the Dominion.

Healyville village, opposite Quebec, has been almost wiped out by fire. A hundred houses were burned.

James Trow, ex-M. P., and the well-known liberal whip, dropped dead on Saturday of heart disease.

A resolution submitted to the trades and labor council of Toronto in favor of independence were filed.

R. Harper, a Calgary teamster, was cut in two by the cars at Napinka. The body was taken to Brandon.

Premier Abbott left on Saturday for England to get medical advice. He has offered to resign the premiership, but will not until the result of his trip is known.

Reported that Archbishop Tache has been asked to write a letter accepting the school situation, in order to permit Thompson to take the premiership gracefully.

FRANK RICHARDS, a well-known newspaper man of London, England, arrived on Thursday's train and went out on Friday. Although his stay was short Mr. Richards collected much valuable information concerning the Edmonton district. He is taking a great deal of trouble to get reliable information free from any influence or bias. The district was quite different from anything he had seen in the length and breadth of Canada since leaving Southern Ontario. He was particularly struck with the beautiful prospect from the south side of the river, the houses, gardens and buildings generally, showing up beautifully amongst the trees on the high north bank of the valley and overlooking the broad, smooth Saskatchewan. He had just come from Vancouver, British Columbia, and had seen no farming country in that province equal to the Northwest. The cost of clearing land there was so enormous—about $200 an acre—as to almost preclude settlement. He was shown the exhibit being prepared for the C. P. R. car and was highly pleased at the length and beauty of the grasses and the superior quality of the grain and vegetables. Mr. Richards' visit is in the interests of the immigration of the sons of farmers and artisans from England to Canada.

THE survey parties of Messrs. Miles, Hubbell and Gibbons passed through town on Thursday on their way from Egg lake, north of St. Albert, to the district south west of Edmonton towards Pigeon lake, wherethey will make new surveys.

LOCAL.

THE police patrol in town was resumed on Monday.

REV. J. M. LESTANG, of St. Albert, left for Calgary on Friday's train.

A POSTOFFICE has been opened in South Edmonton with that name, —Wilson, postmaster.

SEERVICE will be held by D. Arnot in the new church, South Edmonton, on Sunday, 18th inst. at 7:30.

W. HUMBERSTONE has sold 150,000 brick to the contractor for the Edmonton land office, and is preparing to burn another kiln.

THE Dominion government has instructed land agent Anderson to collect an exhibit of grains, grasses and vegetables of the Edmonton district.

IBBOTSON & KERNOHAN, dealers in fruit, confectionery and vegetables, have dissolved partnership. W. G. Ibbotson will continue the business.

SPLENDID harvest weather. Three-fourths of the grain is now in stook, and all is ripe. None of the crop is lying and therefore cutting is going rapidly ahead.

A PARTY of six men and one woman arrived on Saturday from the state of Washington with a band of eighty horses. They left in July last and came by rail to Helena, Montana. From there they drove by trail. They brought a valuable thoroughbred imported Percheron stallion, which died immediately after their arrival at Edmonton.

THE Calgary lacrosse club has challenged the Edmonton club to a match at Calgary on Sept. 29th. As yet the challenge has not been accepted. Some time ago the Edmonton boys seemed to be very anxious to meet Calgary, and now that they have the opportunity, it is to be hoped that they will not allow the laugh to be turned on them; either for want of prompt acceptance or good playing.

THE following letter regarding police protection in Edmonton was received at the last meeting of the town council: "Fort Saskatchewan, 5th September, 1892. Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 25th ultimo, and in reply beg to state that I have as yet received no instructions to resume town duty in Edmonton; but in view of the fact that the town has not yet established a police force of its own, I have instructed the officers in command at Edmonton temporarily, and until further orders, when convenient, to patrol the town until 12 midnight. (Signed,) A. H. GRIESBACH, Superintendent, commanding Fort Saskatchewan district."

SENATOR Freeman Talbot, of Lesueur, Minnesota, arrived on Saturday by train from Waskawin, to which point he had come by Thursday's train. Mr. Talbot is a Canadian who has resided in Minnesota and Dakota for the past 36 years, and is travelling through the Northwest for pleasure and information. He has visited and paid particular attention to Yorkton and Prince Albert, and will remain at Edmonton at least until Friday next. He visited the Dakota colony north of Yorkton and found the people uniformly well satisfied with their present location, and with no desire to return to Dakota. He found excellent crops and an excellent country around Prince Albert and is very favorably impressed with the Edmonton district as far as he has seen. Although he has lived so long in the States, Mr. Talbot is an enthusiastic Canadian and is thoroughly acquainted with Canadian affairs, as he did not leave Canada until he was 44 years of age. He is now 82, but is as healthy, lively and clear-headed as most men at 60. Since entering the Northwest he has contributed a number of interesting and valuable letters to the papers giving ing his impressions of the country. His visit is calculated to do a great amount of good.

THE Winnipeg Commercial says the first frost of the season in Manitoba occurred on August 29th. The temperature fell to the frost point west of Portage la Prairie. The Red River valley, the Portage district and the southwestern portion of the province were not affected. On the following night there was frost again, affecting principally the district between Mor-den and Deloraine. At the Portage tender stuff showed signs of frost in patches here and there. Half to three-quarters of the wheat was already cut. At the Brandon experimental farm there was 2½ degrees of frost on Monday and ½ degree on Tuesday. At Edmonton the thermometer dropped to the frost mark, for the first time this season, on September 4th, one week later than in Manitoba, and not so low by 2½ degrees.

The Boissvain Globe tells of a forty-acre field in that vicinity which was cut by a McCormick binder between 6 o'clock on Monday morning, and 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

The report published in the Free Press that L. H. Doll, jeweler of Calgary, had drawn a revolver on James Forrest, bailiff, was incorrect.

Dr. Brett, who, with J. F. Betts, poses as the power behind the new executive at Regina, told the Calgary Herald that the assembly would probably be called together in March or April next.

The bore for gas at Calgary reached a depth of 1,509 feet without striking gas. The well then caved in. The cost was $5,760 exclusive of the diamond drill which was lent by the C. P. R. free of charge.

A banquet was given in Victoria recently by the Canada Western railway company. From the speeches delivered it would appear that the prospects of this road being built in the near future are founded on pure wind.

Warburton M. Pike, who it will be remembered visited the Barren Grounds of the Arctic circle two years ago, has issued an account of his adventures entitled "The Barren Grounds of Northern Canada." It is very interesting.

COST OF GRADING, ETC.

From a statement submitted to the town council at its recent meeting it appears that the total cost of grading the streets of Edmonton, as far as now completed, has been $5,199.76 for 30,528 running feet or 17c per foot. To this is added extras, such as clearing 99 acres of brush on streets, $792, building 57 culverts, $513, filling slough on Jasper Avenue, $178. The total amount of extras comes to $1,914.39.

The number of lineal feet graded on each street was: Jasper Avenue, 3,740; Victoria, 4,624; Fraser, 6,256; Namayo, 6,120; Kinistina, 6,120; Rowland street, 600; Mill street, 1,300; First street, 1,768.

The total amount of timber in the culverts is 19,470 lineal feet of tamarac and 27,760 superficial feet of 2 inch plank; mud sills, 31,180 feet.

The following are the particulars regarding the bridge across Rat Creek at the terminus of Kinistina avenue:

Fixing approaches to both ends, say..	$ 28 00
4,440 superficial feet of covering at $5.	88 80
1,528 lineal feet tamarac and spruce at 9c	137 50

The Hamilton Spectator opposes Canada's taking part in the Chicago exhibition of next year. It says: "The Spectator contends that the benefit to Canada from exhibiting at Chicago will not correspond to the expense of exhibiting. And our contemporaries, so far as we have seen, have not given any good reasons for spending $100,000 to help the United States advertise themselves. It has not been pretended that Canada will or can gain a new or enlarged market in the United States. The Washington government carefully frames its legislation to exclude Canadian products from that country." The Spectator is right.

Free Press: "Mr L. A. Hamilton, land commissioner of the C. P. R., and Molyneux St. John, leave for the west in a few days to write up immigration literature for next season. Considerable time will be spent in the Edmonton district.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, SEPTEMBER 12, 1892

ABOUT PROROGATION.

The recent arbitrary and unwarranted prorogation of the Northwest assembly by proclamation of the lieutenant-governor came as a surprise and disappointment to all residents of the Territories who take even a moderate interest in the administration of public affairs. To say that such action was unconstitutional and unheard of is to state the case mildly. It is the most extreme and determined attack upon popular rights that has ever been made since the Territories were given any form of local government. Whatever divergence of opinion may have been held in the past as to the extent of the lieutenant-governor's prerogative or the measure of financial control possessed by the representatives of the people, the absolute right of the council or assembly to pass such legislation as the majority might please—subject only to the governor-general's veto—had hitherto never been questioned. It was left for our present lieutenant-governor, advised by his present executive, to destroy the legislative work of a whole session—a session which had been called at a particularly early date on account of the important and urgent business coming before it, and which had transacted the greater part of that business in a particularly prompt, careful and efficient manner. In a country of such vast extent, varied features, widely separated settlements and rapid growth, it is inevitable that a large amount of legislation should be necessary from year to year. If it were not so there would be no need to summons the assembly once every year, at a cost to the public treasury of not less than $20,000, to say nothing of other expenses. To say that after this necessity had been acknowledged to exist for ten years past, after the expense had been incurred and the work done, that the expense should be rendered useless and the work of none effect simply at the wish or whim of one man, is to say that local legislation in and for the Northwest is simply a farce, and absolutely without meaning. While there may be some who, for their own ends, would like to make it so, there are few who wish the country well, who desire that it should prosper and who wish to see such legislation as will aid in its prosperity, who will agree that this should be done. Matters of grave import have been committed to the care of the assembly and upon the way they are dealt with depends to a great extent the welfare of the Territories. Civil justice, educational affairs, municipal matters, territorial affairs generally, public works, the raising of revenue and providing for its expenditure have all been placed, so far as an act of parliament can place them, under the control of the Northwest assembly, and yet by the improper and partizan use of his prerogative, the lieutenant-governor has defied and set at naught the expressed will of the majority of the assembly representing the majority of the people on these matters. Not only public interests, but private rights have been trampled upon by this action. A number of important private bills were before the assembly, affecting materially the town of Calgary, the municipality of Indian Head, the proposed town of Whitewood and

BY-LAW No 25.

A by-law further to amend by-law No. 8.
The Mayor and Council of the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton, in council assembled enact as follows:
1. Section 3 of by-law No. 8, is hereby amended by adding after the words "remove it" the words "or cause it to be removed."
2. The said by-law is further amended by inserting therein the following additional sections in the places indicated by the numbers prefixed to them:
3a. All house offal, whether consisting of animal or vegetable matter shall be placed in barrels or other suitable vessels; and no ashes, filth or other matter which would prevent such house offal from being useful as food for pigs, shall be mingled therewith; and such barrels or other vessels shall be kept in some place from which it can be easily removed therefrom.
3b. Hereafter no privy shall be constructed, having as a receptacle merely an excavation in the ground; but all privies shall be constructed with a suitable box or boxes which can be conveniently withdrawn, emptied and replaced or shall be otherwise so constructed that there can be no leakage from the receptacle through the adjacent soil and that the receptacle can be conveniently emptied and cleaned.
3c. Within six months after the passing of this by-law all now existing privies shall be made to conform to the requirements of the next preceding section hereof.
4a. No person shall remove or carry in or through any highway, street, lane, ally, by-way or public place any swill, house offal, or any offensive matter, unless such person be the owner or occupier of the premises from which such matter is being removed or unless such person and the mode of removal shall have been expressly authorized by the standing committee on health and relief.
4b. No person shall engage in the business of privy cleaning or be permitted to remove night soil unless he shall have first submitted his appliances for carrying on his business for the inspection and approval of the standing committee on health and relief, and shall have obtained a certificate to that effect.
4c. No night soil shall be removed from any premises except between the hours of 11 o'clock p. m. and 5 o'clock a. m.
4d. No person engaged in the business of cleaning privies or removing night soil, or removing house offal or yard refuse shall charge more than the following rates: For removal of night-soil from privies constructed with a box or boxes, any quantity not exceeding one load, $1.00 Where the privy is constructed on any other system for the same quantity, $2.00 For removal of yard refuse, not exceeding one load, 75 For removing house offal when the same is kept in barrels, 3 barrels, or less, 50 Over 3 barrels, up to 6, which shall be considered a full load, 75
7a. Hereafter no person shall use or occupy any slaughter house or building or premises for the purpose of killing therein, unless the same be at least 500 yards distant from any building used as a dwelling house.
7b. No animal shall be killed or slaughtered except in a suitable slaughterhouse or other building or premises specially adapted for the purpose; but this provision shall not apply in the case of pigs.

others, but these shared the same fate as the public measures. Had any objection, valid or otherwise, been made to any of these bills, by or on behalf of his honor, it might have been considered that the balking of such legislation would be a compensating benefit. But no such objection had ever been stated. So far as the assembly or the public were made aware the legislation proposed was as unobjectionable as it was necessary and was all slaughtered in order that in executive, which was not entitled to be kept in office, might be kept there.

Some people and papers have seen fit to speak of the division in the assembly as a matter of trifling importance, a personal matter between the heads of the respective executives. In view of the extreme measure taken by the lieutenant governor to keep in office the one party as against the other—by proroguing the house and killing all legislation—it must be evident either that the lieutenant governor does not appreciate the responsibility of his position or that he was actuated by something very much deeper than mere personal preference. Entrenched behind the crown prerogative he is not compelled to give a reason for any of his official acts, so that the public can only judge from the actions and principles of the men and parties whom he respectively decided in his good pleasure to support and oppose what were the preferences which guided him; and as the party whose cause he espoused had not had the opportunity to put themselves on record by anything but mere words, their position can only be judged by studying the ground of their opponents, and proceeding to them the opposite position. Gaultain and those who followed him had always contended for responsible control of public affairs by the representatives of the people. They had always contended for and at last been successful in securing a financial arrangement with the Ottawa authorities which gave to the control of the assembly the money annually voted by parliament for expenses of government in the Northwest, as well as the funds raised under the local ordinances. They had undertaken to bring educational matters under the control of the responsible executive. They had reduced a number of the absurdities of the license ordinance. They had placed a ballot law before the assembly. They had submitted estimates against which no objection was made, in which after all other needs had been provided for, there remained $3,500 available for public works in each district, against $70 last year. There was no charge or whisper as to misappropriation or mismanagement of any part of the public funds. There was absolutely nothing said, as there was nothing to be said, against their policy or their administration. That such an executive with such a policy and such a record could be defeated in an assembly representing the people of the Northwest is very little to the credit of either the assembly or the people, but when the representative of the crown takes unwarranted action to keep in office the party which secured the defeat of this administration there is only one conclusion to be drawn—that he has become a party to a conspiracy not only to place an administration of public affairs in the hands of those who are not entitled to it, but to reverse the policy pursued by the party whom he has so opposed himself, thereby retarding the progress of the country in order that whatever interests he has seen fit to take under his special care, whether his own or those of his friends, may not suffer. This affair in the assembly is not a personal or a trifling matter. It is not a question of who shall rule, but of how the country shall be ruled. It is the question as to whether our local government affairs, which play such an important part in the general well being of our country, shall continue to progress along the lines and at the rate at which they have progressed or whether any man or set of men to whom fortunate—or unfortunate—circumstances have temporarily given power shall be allowed to interpose their personal ambitions or aims in the way of that progress.

PRESS OPINIONS ON PROROGATION.

Calgary Tribune: "In Alberta the feeling is strong that the session has simply been wasted, owing to the inconsiderate ambition of three or four members. This feeling is growing every day, and the only thing that will satisfy the country is another appeal to the country."

Montreal Star: Still the Leader sees the danger present in the equal state of the parties; and most righteously opposes a proposal that the sum of $90,000 lying in the Territorial treasury, to be expended on roads and bridges, be equally divided among the members to spend how, when and where they please. Such a flagrant breach of common decency as this would go far to prove that the Territories were not fit as yet to be entrusted with the management of their own finances.

Calgary Herald: "They appear to have full swing under the Dominion and Territorial laws, unembarrassed by anything in the shape of estimates approved by the assembly. It seems scarcely possible that the four members of the executive could thus summarily dispense with the authority of the assembly in appropriating an enormous revenue, but the letter of the law (whatever may be its spirit) appears to keep in countenance such an extraordinary claim. According to the statements of the friends of the executive, the latter will go on expending the revenues until March or April next as if there were no assembly in existence. If the executive desire—as no doubt they do—to meet the assembly at its next session with a majority at their back, they will need to exercise the utmost prudence and good judgment in their expenditures."

Regina Leader, September 5: "The present executive was in a different position. They had no business to think that the business of the country would not go on if they had resigned. No doubt another executive could have been formed, and if a truce had been called long enough for four members to have been selected equally from the hostile forces the situation would to-day be vastly better than it is, for the business of the session could have been finished and a lot of valuable legislation saved, and we should have had an executive committee with a majority at its back. Certain it is that the whole affair is one of the most unfortunate and ridiculous that has happened in the Northwest. In the east the feeling in regard to it is one of amusement, not to use a more uncomplimentary term; and there is not the slightest doubt that the Dominion government will put a sudden stop to their gradual concessions to the assembly's requests for wider powers, even if they do not take back part of what has been already granted."

Winnipeg Tribune, September 3: "Word came yesterday from Regina that although the anti-Haultain members of the legislature were unable to control the house and did not command the confidence of the people's representatives, and emphatically were not in accord with public opinion, yet lieutenant-governor Royal had insisted on retaining them in office and had prorogued the house. By this act all the unfinished legislation of the session, including the school bill, is knocked on the head; the public interest will suffer from the want of needed legislation, and the expense of the session, the time and work of the members, are all thrown away. This is what the faction, with the apparent assistance of lieutenant-governor Royal, who seems to have lent himself to partizan work, has already done for the Northwest; this and the exhibition of hoodoo politics it has given, form its achievements so far; and these achievements are strictly in harmony with the character of the faction. It will be a matter of surprise if the people of the Territories do not express their indignation at the injury done to public business and the discredit reflected on the legislature. Up till recently the Northwest assembly was regarded as an admirable body of representatives, and this reputation came to it because of the manly action of the majority, led by Mr. Haultain, in contending for responsible government and other great foundation stones desirable in the constitution of a new country."

PRESS OPINIONS ON THE DEFEAT OF THE HAULTAIN EXECUTIVE.

Regina Leader. "At the same time it must be remembered that he was the choice of the country for the position of leader of the executive and that he was given the unanimous support of the Assembly. He and his colleagues had got well into harness and the business of the country was going on with complete satisfaction."

Medicine Hat Times, Sept. 1.—The events which have transpired in the Assembly during the past week are not calculated to inspire the people of the Northwest with confidence in their legislators. No sufficient reasons have as yet been given by the opposition for their overthrow of the Haultain administration, and until such is done the majority can scarcely hope to secure the approbation of the electorate, should they even succeed in forming a government, which now, owing to the resignation of Speaker Ross, seems highly improbable. The questions on which Haultain was defeated can scarcely be looked upon as important ones if we accept the "Saskatchewan difficulty," and to the indictment under this head the ex-premier gave an explanation which should have satisfied unprejudiced men. The combination of personal haters, district first men, general trouble makers and office seekers was too strong, and the second executive of the Territories fell with the slim majority of one against it."

Moosomin Courier, Sept. 1.—The position of affairs in the Assembly is unique. The executive committee has been defeated on a vote of thirteen to twelve; a new executive has been chosen, and Speaker Ross, feeling that his duty is to support the policy of the late executive, has resigned, and now adds his vote to the minority. It seems certain that the new speaker must be chosen from the temporarily victorious party, which will thus be left in a minority of one, instead of a majority, and may at any moment be themselves defeated by the supporters of the late executive. In this state of affairs, neither party being strong enough to carry on the government, the only course seems to be an appeal to the people; and in view of this probability, it is important to consider whether or not sufficient reason existed for the overthrow of the late executive, for it is on this issue that the election, if held, must be fought. . . . The poor showing made in their charge by the Adullamites is the best indirect evidence of the credit due Mr. Haultain in the administration of his office, and his able defense indicates talents which well qualify him for the important position he has been compelled to vacate.

Qu'Appelle Vidette, Sept. 1st. "The opponents of responsible government for the Territories have, at last, almost succeeded in proving to some extent that the progressive party in the last legislature were wrong in their demands for representative government. On Wednesday last a vote of non-confidence in the executive committee was passed by the house on a vote of 13 to 12. The vote seems to have been on general principles, the only attempt at justification for it was that the district of Saskatchewan was not represented in the executive during a period of about a couple of months. We think, however, that a solution would be found, if it were possible to divine the secrets of the minds of the ignoble thirteen, in the presumption that the late advisory council, the separate school supporters, and two or three other minor lights who are ambitious to shine as members of the executive committee, entered into a conspiracy to accomplish their various little objects. It was not to be expected that Betts, Brett & Co., would be satisfied until they had their revenge on Haultain and the other supporters of responsible government; nor could it be supposed that the promoters of separate schools, under the circumstances, would leave any stone unturned to prolong the agony of enforced separate schools; and with regard to the glowworms, they would do almost anything to secure office. This combination have succeeded in creating a sensation, if they have not advanced the interests of the country."
